

4.0 - Configuration

This section describes how to configure moveon so as to adapt the software to the needs of your institution. It describes the various configuration forms, which can be accessed from the "Configuration" menu option in the main menu: "General settings", "Reference tables", "Users", "Free fields", "Modules", "Document templates" and "Interfaces".

You must configure the software before you use moveon for the first time, but you can also modify it again subsequently at any time.
